

TRACKING DEVICE WARRANTY

For the purpose of this Tracking Device Warranty the term Tracking Device means that a vehicle tracking system uses any combination of radio frequency and / or GPS technology to track a vehicle. Such Tracking Device must be installed and tested and kept in working order at all times. Furthermore, there is a service level agreement (contract) which is inclusive of a vehicle recovery service that is able to track and recover the vehicle once reported as stolen. This service may be outsourced but must be in addition to services provided by the SAPS or any other law enforcement agency.

It is hereby noted and agreed that theft / hijacking cover remains in force for the relevant insured vehicle as stated in the Schedule and the basic theft / hijacking excess is waived. Provided that a Tracking Device is installed and no action on Your part, inclusive of the non-payment of monitoring fees will interfere with the ability or willingness of the Tracking Company which You have employed to track and recover the insured vehicle.

The onus will rest on You to prove that the device was in fact installed and was fully operational with all monitoring and recovery fees being paid up to date.

Your failure to comply with this Tracking Device Warranty in addition to any other Terms and Conditions of this Policy will result in Your forfeiture to claim hereunder and We may reject any claim where such breach is found.
